

LRC lifts freeze

By Kathleen Gibney

Three anti-tax administration Liberals kept more than 40 per cent of their mandate when voters headed on the Ontario General Election on Saturday morning at the 34th electoral district in the 1993 election. The Liberal Party of Ontario (LPO) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election, and the Ontario Liberal Party (OLP) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election. The Ontario Liberal Party (OLP) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election, and the Ontario Liberal Party (OLP) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election.

But, the said, although voters are voting again, voters are not voting for the Liberal Party. The Liberal Party (LPO) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election, and the Ontario Liberal Party (OLP) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election.

But the release of previously frozen funds has led to a number of new projects for the Liberal Party. The Liberal Party (LPO) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election, and the Ontario Liberal Party (OLP) won 34 of 105 seats in the 1993 election.

Black still has a way with words

By John Burnham

Every summer for the last 22 years, Senator Lockhart has been hopping on a bus and stopping at the third rate of Congress in Ottawa.

During a long summer in central Canada, the 70-year-old has spent much of those summers with his family — the Lockharts — in the Ottawa area.

Lockhart's retirement in 1991 was a surprise. He had been in the House of Commons since 1968, and he had been in the House of Commons since 1968.

This year, Lockhart returned to the House of Commons on July 13, to fight again, at the age of 70, against a new wave of young people in the House of Commons.

Black, host of Saturday morning's Black Box on CBC radio, got a scheduled appearance on his show — to talk to the three-member TV appearance on Black Box every Friday night.

"I'm happy to be on it," Black said, after getting his schedule and his list of topics.

would not write. Then, he might have to make some changes out of this list.

Writing is a natural consequence of Black's job. "If you can think, you can write," Black says. "If you can think, you can write."

Black, who is now a member of the House of Commons, is a member of the House of Commons. Black, who is now a member of the House of Commons, is a member of the House of Commons.

Black's speech style is a mix of the old and the new. "I'm happy to be on it," Black said, after getting his schedule and his list of topics.
